THE ACADEMIC PROCESSION

A Faculty Marshal heads the academic procession. Candidates for degrees, with Master's degree candidates first, are led by Student Marshals. Next in line are the President's party including members of the Board of Regents and other honored guests, and college officials with platform duties. Then follow Administrative Council members, who also sit on the platform.

The academic costumes worn trace their origin to the middle ages when long-sleeved, hooded gowns were necessary for warmth in the unheated stone colleges. Over the centuries much diversity occurred. To bring some order out of this, in the United States in 1894, an intercollegiate system of academic costume was agreed on and it is now adhered to by more than 760 institutions. According to this code, both the styling and the colors of the regalia have significance.

The design of the gowns indicates the degree: The bachelor's is a simple gown with a full sleeve. The master's gown is much like a bachelor's gown except for the long sleeve which hangs loose since the arm actually protrudes from a slit in the upper part of the sleeve. The doctor's gown is more elaborate and worn loosely. It has velvet edging and three velvet stripes on the full sleeves. The color of this velvet may be black or in the color appropriate to the degree.

Hoods, which are worn over the gowns, are similar for all three degrees. The bachelors candidates often do not wear the hood. The hood has a velvet edging which indicates the area of the degree. The inside or lining of the hood is satin and indicates by its colors the college or university which granted the degree.

A partial list of degree colors to be found on the edge of the hood or the trimming on the doctor's gowns is as follows:

Blue, Dark—Philosophy	Lemon—Library Science
Blue, Light—Education	Orange—Engineering
Brown—Fine Arts	Pink—Music
Drab—Business	Purple—Law
Green—Medicine	Scarlet—Theology
Green, Sage—Physical Education	White—Arts and Letters
	Yellow, Golden—Science

Student Marshals are junior students, who wear their purple and gold gowns as a distinctive garb in connection with their function of assisting with the academic procession.
